Once Goddess Parvati was preparing for a bath so she told Nandi, her husbands Lord Shivas bull, to guard the door and keep them away from getting inside and after that, she went for bathing. Nandi stood at the door and doing what Goddess Parvati had instructed him but when Lord Shiva came and wanted to get inside then Nandi showing this loyalty towards his Lord and let him go inside. This made Mata Parvati very angry and thought that there is no one loyal towards her so she created a boy from the turmeric paste that was applied on a body and then infused life it. He was none other than Lord Ganesha and her loyal son. She told Ganesha to guard the door while she takes a bath. Ganesha followed his mothers instruction and started guarding the door while she takes a bath. Ganesha followed his mothers instruction and started guarding the door while she takes a bath. let him go inside. Lord Shiva was not aware of Ganesha is his son only and in anger, he uprooted Ganeshas head from the body. When Parvati came to know about this incidence, she came quickly and was so enraged that she decided to destroy the whole universe. But lord Bramha told that it is not a good idea to destroy the whole universe rather they can fix another persons head on Ganeshas body. Goddess Parvati agreed and then Lord Shiva ordered his messenger to bring the head of a boy whose mother is sleeping keeping her back towards the child. Messengers tried a lot but couldnt find any boy and while returning to Kailash they saw an elephants mother sleeping with her back towards her kid. He is the first amongst the gods to collect all the honors. He is called Vighnaraja, or Vighnesvara, lord of the difficulties and obstructions. Dedicated Hindus worship him for removal of obstacles. Before starting any exacting venture or worshipping other gods, they memorize Ganesha, their beloved god. The only exception to this rule is when Siva is the father of Ganesha. When you worship the father there is no need to worship the son individually because the son is always found in the heart of his father. So when Siva is worshipped Ganesha is set aside in the sidelines. Of all the gods, Ganesha attracts and arrests our attention. No one can fail to notice his peculiar features and his unusual placement in the Hindu pantheon. Festivals for Lord GaneshGanesh Chaturthi is one of the significant festivals for the Hindus, celebrated throughout India as a birthday of Lord Ganesha, the beloved elephant-headed son of Lord Shiva and Goddess Parvati. The celebration is also known by the name Vinayaka Chaturthi that normally takes place between August and September. Ganesh Chaturthi is celebrated with huge joy and passion in various parts of India, particularly in Maharashtra. The arrangements for the festival start on from two to three months in advance. The wonderful idols of the Lord Ganesha are made by the skilled artisans. The size of the idols can range from very small to massive statues. People fit the statues in their homes and particularly prepared structures known as the Mandapas or Pandals. The pandals are amazingly decorated with the twinkling lights, flowers and various other items. Sankatahara Chaturthi is one of the most significant Vrathas performed to get the enormous blessings of Lord Ganesh by the people of India. It is observed each month in the evening of the fourth day (Chathurthi) after Pournami (full moon day).
